Reeling in the Cure, consisting of local community members, has developed a bass fishing tournament for anyone wanting to help find a CURE for breast cancer. There is an entry fee of $100 of which $25 from each entry will go directly to the National Breast Cancer Foundation. Cash donations will be used to provide tournament prizes, raffle items, and food the rest of the cash will go directly to the National Breast Cancer Foundation thru Pink Fishing, but prizes would also be very helpful for participation gifts. Your support is greatly appreciated and will provide positive exposure for your business to the surrounding communities. In addition, companies/businesses who provide monetary or product support will have their name or logo added to the tournament banners which will be prominently viewed at the weigh-in and other tournament events.
